Shed & Summerhouse Restricted Access Information

Access can often pose a problem when looking to purchase a new garden shed or summerhouse, especially when you do not have direct access to your garden.

UK Garden Buildings offer a split section service where we can manufacture your building into smaller sections for ease of passage.

When enquiring about our split section service we will ask you for maximum and minimum heights, photographs, and a video walk-through showing the access from where our vehicle will park to where you require the building.

Often there are obstacles that are overlooked when restricted access is required like tight turns, stairways, pergolas, decorative archways, power cables etc. The video walk through will highlight these.

We will always endeavour to deliver and install buildings where possible without the need for the split section service.

If you have any queries with regards to your access, please contact us by sending an email to customerservices@ukgardenbuildings.co.uk

Please note there are occasions where we will not be able to reduce the size of sections without compromising the integrity of the building, in this instance we would sadly be unable to fulfil the request.
